LOCAL MATTERS. FOREIGN AND COASTWISE TRADE-SMALL EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.—Saturday the Nor-wegian bark Winkila, Lyche, master, cleared for Pernambuco, Brazil, and a market, with 2,975 barrels and 50 balf-barrels of flour, valued at $16,980, shipped by the Gallego Man-ulacturing Company. This was the only clearance reported during the week. It is expected that the export business for the rest of the year 1878 will be duli and insignificant, but the aggregate of the exports for the year will, it is believed, exceed that of 1877, and compare favorably with any year for the past decade. BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS .- Around Shocke and Crenshaw's warehouses Saturday all was as neat as a new pin, ready for large loosetobacco sales to-morrow. It has been thirteen years to-day since the Dispatch resumed publication after its destruction at the evacuation. There were very good inward and outward freights last week per steamers, railroads, and canal.

Henrico County Court meets to-day at 11 'clock. At the last Mozart (instrumental and floral night) Messrs. Reinhardt, Thilow. and Kessnich received very handsome floral tributes, which they gracefully acknowledged amid great cheering.

PERSONAL.-Colonel W. W. Newman, of Hanover, was in the city Saturday. Among the visitors to the Tobacco Exchange Saturday were W. F. Graves, Bedford; E. J. Ramsey, Pearson county, N. C.; L. M. Butler, Hanover; John D. Pugh, Washington, D. C.; W. L. Edmond, Henrico; and John H. Traylor, Chesterfield.

The "plot" of "La Cigale" is pretty much the same as the plots of all the rest of Lotta's plays. Lotta is, of course, a little vagabond who turns out to be an heiress, and dances and "banjos" through each act in the same rough-and-tumble way as of old. At times Christian, in an opinion pronounced able her "stage business" is lit up with really the most artistic style. by the Court of Appeals, maintained the clever bits of acting, and it is a mistake to suppose that she does not carefully elaborate her effects. It is said that any one who goes to see iment of unconquerable melancholy.

MANCHESTER AND VICINITY.

The City Attorney .- The following was the vote in the City Council Friday night on the resolution of Mr. J. Robert Perdue appointing C. C. McRae, Esq., city attorney for the city of Manchester : Ayes: Messrs. Gentry, Gibbs, Owens, Patteson, Perdue, and Spain-6.

Noes: Messrs. Batcheller, Gallegher, Howle, and the President-4. Messrs. Ballowe and Kahn were absent. The appointment of Mr. McRae gives very general satisfaction, and he will enter upon the discharge of his duties at once. Mr. McRae has already been retained in several suits in which the city is interested.

Give us a Fair Count .- The Dispatch reporter on Saturday unintentionally insulted Mr. Richard S. Whitehead by crediting him with a 450-pound shoat. Friday evening it White presiding.—Charles Smith was sent was discovered that the scales on which the shoat had been weighed were defective. A new count was called for, and it become necessary to go behind the former returns A returning board composed of several butchers and experts was organized, and on a fair and impartial count the weight was returned at 487 pounds. This does not include the basiet and about fifteen pounds of extra fat taken from the offal. In fact it might even be said that all of it was awful fat. The shoat, brought down Hull street Saturday in a four-horse wagon, attracted great attention. Many thought it a young elephant, skinned; others that it was one of the prehistoric mustodons said in ancient church, on the 12th and 13th instant, a sale times to have infested the woods of thesterfield. This is the last of this hog business, for if another count is called for the weight might be run up to half a ton. But as a matter of fact, the net weight was 487, and gross over 500 pounds.

> Personal .- Mr. Jesse Whitehead, for nearly half a century a citizen of Manchester, and now almost an octogenarian, has test for Rockdale, England, the scene of his nativity and early youth. Mr. Whitehead was the first superintendent of the first cotton-mill erected in Manchester, and by a life of industry and economy is now en abled in his old age to enjoy its honorable Rev. J. H. NO. 140.

The Public Schools.—The enrolment at the public schools is now as large as at any time since they were established. Thanks to the zeal and industry as well as paternal nterest manifested by the teachers, the improvement of the pupils is marked: The discipline is mild but firm. It is to be hoped that our schools will be enabled to continue until the end of the regular session in June. To suspend them in February would be nothing less than a public calamity.

The Swansboro' Committee.-In addition to their patrol, the citizens of Swansboro' have organized an association for the purpose of improving the village and looking after its general interests. The following officers have been elected: Captain B. H. Morrissett, president; William G. Taylor, Esq., secretary; and Deputy-Sheriff W. G. Flournoy, treasurer.
